The following item, clipped from the Ft. Madison (Iowa), Democrat, contains information well worth remembering: "Mr. John Roth, of this city, who met with an accident a few days ago, spraining and bruising his leg and arm quite severely, was cured by one 50 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This remedy is without an equal for sprains and bruises and should have a place in every household. For sale by Leavell & Wood."

Two Bits of News From Edison.

Thomas Alva Edison registered at the Central Hotel last night. The great inventor is very hard of hearing, very hard, indeed, and it isn't very easy to talk to him, unless you do not care to annoy the boarders. His manners are abrupt and abrupt. He has a look in his eye for all the world like John W. Wainwright, minus the Sunday-school feature, of course.

"How did you come to be so deaf?" asked the reporter.

"Well, that is something I haven't told and have not been asked to tell."

"Well, that will be news."

"I suppose I can tell it now with safety. When I was a boy I sold newspapers, pens and the usual line of merchandise on the Grand Trunk line. One day at Detroit the baggage-master, a big surly fellow, took offense at what I said and lifted me up by the ear. I scribbled my deafness to him."

"Then there was a great deal of fiction in the stories of your great ability as a telegraph operator?"

"There was. I had more difficulty in holding a place than the world ever imagines. I drifted from one place to another, and finally came to the conclusion that the possibility of success was to devote my time more to the improving of the telegraph service than to improving my ability as an operator."

EDUCATIONAL COLUMN.

C. H. PITTMAN, CHAPMAN, KY., EDITOR.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 13, 1992
Prof. C. B. Pittman editor Educational Column S. K.

Dear Sir:

I see in last Friday's KENTUCKIAN your reference to my suggestion so far as to say that you disagree with me. I have talked with many teachers and not one have I found who does not say he favors the plan. Now what can be your objection to giving the teachers the money heretofore given the one who has conducted the institute? To be sure they must do their part. Would it not be an incentive to them? Some teachers have been put to an expense in attending the institute equal to 8 or 10 per cent of the money they received from the school fund. Now I may give some of them a chance to get at least a part of it back and in a way too that will improve them and do them good.

I never yet have found one teacher who favors the plan of the Library proposed to be formed. Any teacher who is in his right calling can well afford to buy all the books he needs; then he has them whenever he needs them. What we need is practical not the artificial or machine teachers. A few good books every teacher can afford to own, he should also take and read two or three good school papers or journals. He should not have to ride fifteen or thirty miles to get them from a "library" and when he gets there find that some one else has what he wishes.

Here is my idea, friend Pittman: The man who can't afford to feed his horse had better walk.

If you will have this in your column I will be obliged and shall be pleased to have your comments on the same.

Yours Truly,
Wm. Robinson.

Friend Robinson:—

You speak of many teachers favoring your plan. It is strange that you and I have met teachers so different in their views. We have found them favoring our plan and the old plan but have only found six (William) favoring yours. You ask why object to paying the money to our selection of teachers, heretofore given to one? Because 15 or 20 teachers have offered their services free and also to pay one dollar and fifty cents towards helping their less favored co-workers who have no library as you have. Would it not be poor judgment in our Sup't. employing 12 men for a week when 15 have pledged themselves to do the work for nothing? "Some teachers have been put to an expense in attending the institute equal to 8 or 10 per cent of the money they received from the school fund." Let us look at this assertion. Will it cost me less to attend the Institute five days conducted by 15 persons who from the love of the profession in their souls freely give their time or one conducted for the same time by 12 persons who work for the money paid by their less favored fellow teachers? Why not let every teacher do one dollar and fifty cents worth of conducting, just enough to cover the fee? And ask the Superintendent to pay for the printing of the minutes and pay all board bills, furnishing free backs and ice water for the week?

Dear friend Robinson please take a small dose of your own medicine, you say "any teacher who is in his right calling can well afford to buy all the books he needs." May I not say with equal force that any teacher who is in his right calling can well afford to pay the expense of a five days Institute. Our Superintendent made arrangements last year for hotel rates at 60 cents per day and quite a number were entertained free by the citizens of Hopkinsville. Then how did that class of teachers spend 10 per cent of their salaries on this five days sojourn in your city. Surely you have been talking to a class of teachers who have been very much imposed upon, or are modern spendthrifts wasting their money in riotous living.

Now Professor this sentence is very unfair, "I never yet have found one teacher who favors the plan of the Library proposed to be formed," and when we know your location and remember how industriously you have canvassed the matter and found so many who were opposed, you have certainly picked your men. You did not wish to find the other side or you have acted very unfairly in making out your estimates. If you had taken pains enough to call on your nearest neighbor, Prof. Dietrich, you would have found one who is willing to give his time and all to make the institute a success. If you had called in the Superintendent's office you could have gotten the names of eleven teachers of the League who offered their services and petitioned the Library plan, and I will venture to say without successful contradiction, that they represent seven tenths of the professional works in the county, and at least one half the educational journals taken.

Friend Robinson, I will change your phrase some little and it will then suit my opinion of the case. The man who cannot feed his horse should let some one else feed him who would and could feed him.

Julian Jettings.

JULIAN, June 14.—As we read the new letters from our neighboring villages in your valuable paper—which we are justly proud of, and feel that we could scarcely do without—we want to tell you of the happenings of our place, which is situated in one of the finest sections of country in Southern Kentucky.

W. D. Stowe, one of our most prosperous and substantial farmers, commenced cutting wheat to-day, the first in the neighborhood to start. He has a very fine crop. It is no uncommon occurrence for him to find heads containing from 50 to 70 grains in his wheat.

Miss Taylor Edwards has returned from school at Murray, Ky., much to the satisfaction of one of our young men.

Miss Oury, quite a charming young lady from Murray, is visiting Miss Taylor Edwards.

Mr. J. E. Gossett, of Birmingham, is on a business trip here. He is probably thinking of buying wheat here but we doubt it.

Miss Mattie McReynolds, quite a fascinating little blonde from Elkton, is on a visit to Miss Sammie White. Boys hold your hearts.

Oh! if we had more of these young ladies visiting the neighborhood; they make it so very pleasant for the boys sometimes.

The farmers are renovating their binders and making preparations for the wheat harvest which is now almost on us, and the prospects for a crop in this neighborhood were never better.

Tobacco is looking well now. When the hot weather began the devastating cut-worm was forced to seek a more pleasant abode.

We believe sincerely that Jas. White and Prof. Smith will sever the ties of bachelorhood this year, as we have some young ladies making eyes at "the pair," and one actually told me she intended making a proposition to "Jimmie."

We listened to quite an able talk last Lord's day morning from one of your city's most learned divines, Dr. V. M. Metcalfe. Bro. Metcalfe was far a long time pastor of Concord Church here. He is quite an excellent man, and is beloved by all who know him.

We positively saw "Willie" White at church Sunday, he had certainly promised to "be all smiles love," for he was looking very pleasing indeed, but why shouldn't he, for it made our hearts go "pit-a-pat" to see the handsome girl by his side playing the agreeable.

Miss Mattie Phillips has just completed a ten months' term of school at this place. She left for Nashville a few days since to visit friends and relatives for a short time, and will then leave for her home in Virginia. Miss Mattie has quite a number of warm friends here that tell her good-by with much regret. We hope however she will be with us again in the fall, as she is a very excellent teacher and her pupils are very much attached to her.

No more till the weather changes.
Roxie.

Patent medicines differ—One has reasonableness, another has not. One has reputation—another has not. One has confidence born of success—another has only "hope." Don't take it for granted that all patent medicines are alike. They are not. Let the years of uninterrupted success and the tens of thousands of cured and happy men and women, place Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription on the side of the comparison to which they belong. And there isn't a state or territory, nor—nor hardly a country in the world, whether its people realize it or not, but have men and women in them that are happier because of their discovery and their effects. Think of this in health. Think of it in sickness. And then think whether you can afford to make the trial if the makers can afford to take the risk to give your money back as they do, if they do not benefit or cure you.

A Dangerous Knee Habit.

Another case is reported in which a woman has probably lamed herself for life through that habit so generally prevalent among women, the trick of shutting bureau drawers with the knee. It is so much easier to push a drawer to, even when it moves with difficulty, by a motion of the knee than it is to stoop that nine women out of ten perhaps are accustomed to do it. The instances in which evil results are of course not large in number in comparison to the number of persons who do this, but they are sufficiently numerous to show the folly of running the risk of harm and to deter thoughtful persons from exposing themselves to a danger so easily avoided, yet of consequences so serious in many cases.

A Choice List of Summer Resorts.

In the Lake regions of Wisconsin, Northern Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa and the two Dakotas, there are hundreds of charming localities pre-eminently fitted for summer homes. Among the following selected list are names familiar to many of our readers as the perfection of Northern summer resorts. Nearly all of the Wisconsin points of interest are within a short distance from Chicago or Milwaukee, and none of them are so far away from the "busy marts of civilization" that they cannot be reached in a few hours of travel, by frequent trains, over the finest roads in the Northwest—the Chicago, Milwaukee & Northern Railroad.

Druggists Who Substitute.

Beware of the druggist or general dealer who when asked for Lemon Chill Tonic, has something "just as good" or "just like it." We say the person who habitually does this is not the one to trust with your prescriptions; he would be apt to substitute, if he hadn't what the prescription called for would put in something "just as good." There are many tonics on the market, but none claim to be better. Why then take the risk? The persons whose names are attached can tell you that Lemon Chill Tonic does everything we claim for it. Price 50c. For sale and guaranteed by R. C. Hardwick.

COULDN'T TALK ENGLISH.

Cash by Any Other Name Failed to Teach His Governor.

The young man laid his cigarette down on the hall table while he went into interview his father on the financial question. After a few preliminaries he said:

"By the way, pop, can I have a few 'stamps' to-day?"

"Postage stamps?" inquired the father, innocently.

"No, sir," was the impatient reply. "I mean 'cents'."

"Sends, my son?" inquired the old gentleman, in mild astonishment.

"I mean the 'tin,' of course."

"And what is the 'tin,' my boy?"

"Oh, the 'ready,' don't you know?"

"No, I don't know."

"Don't you know, 'spondulix'?"

"I can't say that I do. Who is he?"

"Aw, come off, pop. What I'm out for is the stuff."

"What stuff?"

"Why the 'soap,' of course?"

"The soap? Are you in need of a bath?" and the father looked over his specs inquiringly.

"No, no," impatiently. "I mean the sugar."

"Oh, sugar and soap? Going to make a plaster, are you?"

"Plaster, nothing. I want the 'chick.'"

"Chick? What's chick, pray?"

"Why, it's 'dust.' Anybody knows that."

"Oh, you, excuse me. Get the brush over there."

"That's that kind I want. It's 'rocks.'"

"Well, there's dust in rocks, isn't there?"

"Won't you never catch on?" exclaimed the young man. "I want the 'stuff,' the 'where-withal,' don't you know? the 'rhino,' the 'boogie,' plain, ordinary every-day cash, pop, that's what I want."

"Oh," exclaimed the father in a greatly relieved tone; "here's a quarter," and that's all the young man got.—Detroit Free Press.

ANOTHER STEP FORWARD IN THE INTEREST OF OUR CUSTOMERS.

FREE REPAIRS ON ALL BOOTS AND SHOES WE SELL.

It has always been the guiding principle in our business to do the very best for our customers possible, by giving them honest goods, lowest prices and liberal fair treatment. Whenever we have been able to buy stocks of clothing or boots and shoes at 50 or 75c on the dollar, we have in turn given them to our customers on the same terms. As our business has grown from year to year we have been enabled to reduce our per cent. of profit. We do not claim to do these things on account of any big-heartedness, but purely as a matter of business. And as a matter of business we will from this date on, extend the guarantee limits on shoes to include every shoe that goes out of our store, be it a 50c slipper or a $5.00 hand made shoe. These Free Repairs of course do not include halfsoling or patching, but covers any and all defects in the work—all rips in uppers or soles sewed up free.

This is a long stride for the benefit of our customers, and will cost us several hundred dollars every year but our large and increasing business justifies it, and our business policy demands it. It has always been to the peoples interest to buy shoes from the oldest established shoe house in all Southern Kentucky, handling only old and tried lines. This "Step Forward" will weld another strong link in the chain that connects the people of Christian county to our place of business.
